

Is it too late to register for a webinar, even if it's in session right now?

No, it's not too late if the webinar is set up for you to self-register (all QSSUG and QSS webinars). Click on the registration link for the webinar and follow the instructions. If the webinar has already started, you will be prompted to join the webinar in progress.

Note: As a reminder, if you join a QSSUG webinar while it is in session and you are a non-member, you will be charged the full $250 non-member fee.
